

NATURE

- a. In class, do a brainstorming in which you collect at least ten types of outdoor leisure activities.
- b. Divide the class into groups. Half the groups look at the list of activities and try to identify ways in which each activity is good for the environment or people's relationship with nature; the other groups try to show how each activity is harmful.
- c. Compare the results of the groups in class and discuss.

- 2 Make a list or mind map of words and phrases to do with 'Nature and the Environment'. Continue to add to your list or mind map as you work your way through this chapter.

► Mind Mapping (p. 222)

Now read the poem 'If the Earth' below and then do the tasks on the right-hand page.

If the Earth

were only a few feet in diameter, floating a few feet above a field somewhere, people would come from everywhere to marvel at it. People would walk around it, marvelling at its big pools of water, its little pools and the water flowing between. People would marvel at the bumps on it, and the holes in it. They would marvel at the very thin layer of gas surrounding it and the water suspended in the gas. The people would marvel at all the creatures walking around the surface of the ball and at the creatures in the water. The people would declare it as sacred because it was the only one, and they would protect it so that it would not be hurt. The ball would be the greatest wonder known, and people would come to pray to it, to be healed, to gain knowledge, to know beauty and to wonder how it could be. People would love it, and defend it with their lives because they would somehow know that their lives could be nothing without it. If the Earth were only a few feet in diameter.

Joe Miller, 1975

ENVIRONMENT

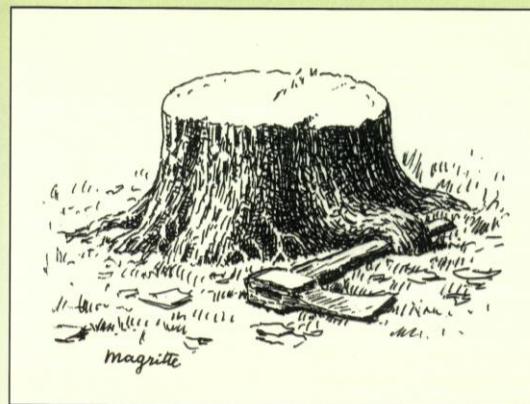

- 3 Why do you think Miller chose to present his poem as a 'shape poem'?
- 4 a. Identify the themes in the poem. Say which lines deal with each theme.
 b. Evaluate the main image of 'If the Earth' as a means of getting Miller's point across.
- 5 Some might say that 'If the Earth' is not really a poem at all. Give your opinion, stating your reasons for your view.
- 6 a. Now look at the picture (1962) by René Magritte below. Describe the picture in as much detail as you can.
